

Maternity Portraits Package

When to schedule your maternity portrait:

Some people have the notion to wait 9 months to schedule their maternity portraits so that the pictures are taken when the mother's stomach is at its biggest. However, this is not a good idea. Due dates are approximate; so the baby could easily come much earlier than expected. The ideal time for a maternity portrait is right around 7 months. Of course, the odds of finding a photographer who is available on the day that you call are slim; so call a couple of Weeks ahead of time to book your appointment.
